

Plants produce pounds in factory shop's fundraiser

The Macmillan cancer support charity has benefited to the tune of £300 from a fundraising raffle run by staff at a Spalding company's factory shop. Customers at the outlet shop of pot plant specialists the Butters Group in Kellett Gate, bought tickets in the run-up to Mothers Day to win a range of prizes.

The fundraiser was organised by shop staff Maureen Penfold and Mandy Abbott, assisted by Mandy's mother Maureen Howell.

All three women were present when the cheque was handed over to Pat Turner, the local area Chairperson for Macmillan.

The popular factory shop is open to the public for pot plants, containers and arrangements on Thursdays (9am-5pm) Fridays (9am-5.30pm) and Saturdays (9am-1pm).

Pictured left to right are Mandy Abbott (Butters), Pat Turner (Macmillan Chair), Maureen Penfold (Butters), and helper Maureen Howell.

Issued on behalf of Butters Group by Jackie McCarrick, PR Consultant. 01544 328443